while at work yesterday at the Stony Creek Distillery, in the Creighton Road, Henrico county, and fell in a huge vat containing swill and boiling water at what was said to be 250 degrees. He was probably fatally burned, as it was declared last night at the Memorial Hospital, where he was laken, that he could not live. Anthony was employed by J. W. Sarnes, who contracted for the use of the distillery swill. As usual, he was at work yesterday morning stirring the swill, which passed from the distillery sinto the vat and which was numbed from that into a larger tank, from which it was dumped into carts to be carried away. To prevent clogging the pumn it was necessary that the swill be constantly stirred. Anthony was engaged at this occupation when he slipped upon the thin coating of ice and fell into the boiling fluid. Despite the terrific shock the negrows will be to draw himself from the seething tank, but upon reaching safety fell unconscious. He was immediately taken to the hospital by Mr. Barnes and everything possible done to save his life.

The members of the board take the position that under the law they have no right to investigate any Sinte Institution, in the sense of a formal inquiry, without direction by the Governor. But they are ready, they say, to hear any complaint at any time of improper conditions which may exist. Should any such conditions be brought to its attention, the board would look into the matter, and in the event there seemed to be good ground for official inquiry, would recommend that the Governor
order an investigation.

River Regulates Freight Rates.

Several members of the chamber committee spoke at length on the great value of the dock in fostering the shipping of Richmond and keeping down freight rates, Illustrations being drawn in the river rates to this port on anthracite coal and on foreign shipments of tobacco. Members of the Council committee asked why these preferential rates were not fully secured by the erection of the proposed wharves on the lower river, and were told that those were for the use of larger vessels only, and that the long haul from Rocketts to the wholesale section would more than offset the difference, making it vasily preferable for the merchants bringing freight by inland ways to use small vessels and come up into the dock to Eighteenth Street.

DOCK RECORD COMPLETE

Attorneys Hasten to Get Appeals, So As to Avoid Repairs.

The record in the case of the city of Richmond against the owners of the Richmond Dock was completed yesterday by Clerk R. T. Wilson, of the State Corporation Commission, and turned over to Eppa Hunton, Jr., counsel for the bondholders of the William R. Trigg Co.

It is expected that the petition for an appeal will be presented within a short time. The making up of the record has been accomplished with unusual celerity at the request of Mr.

usual celerity at the request of Mr. Hunton, for unless the appeal is granted by December 1, the order of the State Corporation Commission that the dock gates be repaired and that the dock be ready for public use by that date, will become operative. The appeal must be granted as a matter of right. It is believed it can hardly be heard before the March term.

counting, there was a majority of two for said issue.

Vote Was Close.

The county as a whole gave a majority of ninety-six for the bonds—this is undisputed. Majorities are required both in the county at large and in the district or districts for which the bonds are to be issued. There are two precincts in Centre District. One of these, the county seat—Warrenton—gave 199 votes for the issue and 187 against, while eight votes were thrown out. New Baltimore Precinct gave twenty-two votes for and thirty-five against. This showed a defeat for the proposition by one vote.

The legality of the election in Warrenton was attacked on the ground that some voters had been illegally assisted in marking ballots by the judges, that crowds had been permitted in the polling places and that certain citizens had been prevented from casting their ballots by a premature closing of the polis.

Judge Shackleford found that 199 persons had voted for the bonds in Warrenton, 184 against and that cleven were thrown out. This means that lice
